

12th ANNUAL
HARVARD
PLANT BIOLOGY
SYMPOSIUM
MAY 8 & 9

STOMATA

Evolution, Development, and Physiology

MONDAY, May 8, 2017

Biological Labs Lecture Hall / 4:00pm
16 Divinity Avenue, Cambridge, MA

SPECIAL LECTURE:

Lisa Ainsworth

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
Understanding and Improving Crop Responses to Global Atmospheric Change

Dr. Ainsworth's talk is also part of the HUCE Lecture Series, "The Future of Food" [<http://environment.harvard.edu/future-food>]

Following the talk, HUCE will host a reception in the MCZ, 4th floor, 26 Oxford Street.

TUESDAY, May 9, 2017

Weld Hill at Arnold Arboretum
1300 Centre Street, Boston, MA

INVITED SPEAKERS:

Charles T. Anderson Pennsylvania State University

Sarah Assmann Pennsylvania State University

Dominique Bergmann Stanford University

Tim Brodribb University of Tasmania

Peter Franks The University of Sydney

David Haig Harvard University

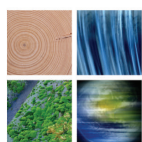

Tracy Lawson University of Essex

Julian Schroeder University of California, San Diego

The Harvard Plant Biology Symposium is sponsored by:

Plant Biology Initiative
at Harvard University

Harvard University
Center for the Environment

The ARNOLD
ARBORETUM
of HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Harvard University
Department of Organismic and Evolutionary Biology

The Harvard Plant Biology Symposium is FREE and OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. Registration is required for Day 2 of the Symposium at Weld Hill on May 9. Lunch will be provided.

To register go to:
<http://pbi.oeb.harvard.edu/>

